

TENTH YEAR.

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1899.

NO. 34

OPENING GUNS

Great Ovation Given Taylor and Other Candidates at London.

GREETED KENTUCKY'S NEXT GOVERNOR.

General Taylor's Speech Devoted to State Issues Entirely.

JUDGE PRATT MADE OPENING SPEECH.

London, Ky., Aug. 22.—In great numbers in attendance and a perfectly sympathetic and orderly audience count for anything, the Republican State campaign was opened under most auspicious circumstances here today.

By 10 o'clock this morning there was such an assemblage at the grounds that it was incumbent upon the management to provide some reward for the enthusiasm displayed. This was before any of the excursions had arrived and the audience was composed entirely of persons who had come on horseback, in springless wagons or who had walked the dusty roads to lend their presence. The long fence back of the fair ground's grandstand was one line of over 1,000 hitched horses and mules. The ground behind the stand sheltered hundreds of vehicles from the already hot sun. Those eager to hear crowded the grandstand, facing which the speakers' platform had been built.

The auditorium proper facing the grandstand, was at 10:15 o'clock filled to suffocation, with people. This part of the stand seats 3,500 people. An annex attached to it holds 1,000 more and was partially filled, although out of reach of the distant voice of the orators. For two hours an attentive, cheerful crowd, only ten per cent of it women and children, sat in the stands and heard the speakers.

FRATT OPENS THE CAMPAIGN.

Mr. Parker called the meeting to order, introducing Judge Pratt, who was the chairman. In a graceful style the chairman introduced Judge Pratt, who was listened to with great interest. In speaking, Judge Pratt said, among other things: "A victory means more than a senseless cry that is raised through the State about trusts, monopolies and the railroads. It means no more police-men's conventions, where they worked under the mysterious influence of Redwine. The disease of the body politic," he said, "must be cured with Taylor drops and Republican soothing syrup."

Judge Pratt also said that victory meant no more of the present election law, which he dissected, and held up to ridicule and scorn very effectively. He made a good point when he stated the alleged excuse for its existence was the situation in the eleventh district where Col. D. G. Colson had been alleged to have acted as an election officer in 1896. He said victory would mean no McChord railroad bill, which he exposed as a pernicious measure. Victory would mean no Chinian school hook bill, which is calculated to defeat the education of the little children of the State. His picture drawn in reference to the effects of this bill, if applied, provoked hearty hand-clapping.

Further in his speech, Judge Pratt's mention of Gov. Bradley's name was applauded. He pointed to the calamity that would arise if the State government was allowed to pass from the hands of an efficient administration. Then he referred finally to the difficulties surmounted by Gen. Taylor in the course of his life and indulged in a brief and eloquent enunciation of the nonentity for governor, which was greeted with a demonstration that shook the thickly packed wooden stand.

Reviewing the platform and the things for which it stands, the speaker won much favor in the defense of the national administration's foreign policy. All in all, the western Kentucky man made a fine impression.

Caleb Powers, nominee for Secretary of State made a brief talk after Judge Pratt had finished, after which the meeting adjourned for dinner and all were fed.

When the meeting was called to order again at 1 o'clock the crowd in the stand was even more dense, while hundreds stood round, awaiting a good view of the speakers. Other hundreds camped out under the pine trees, loath to leave the grounds before the festivity was concluded. On the grounds at this time were from 7,000 to 10,000 people, according to various estimates.

Judge Boreing, in opening the exercises, promised Gen. Taylor a 2,000 majority in the eleventh congressional district, "hurrying Goebel and Goebelism so deep that never another ambitious demagogue shall rise to dislodge his fellow man."

The formal duty of introducing to the assemblage the next governor of Kentucky devolved upon Judge T. Z. Morrow, brother-in-law of Gov. Bradley, and an honored veteran in the ranks of the republican party in Kentucky. As he uttered the words forecasting the victory of the gallant Butler county man, the stand rocked and vibrated with life, as applause thundered forth. As usual, Judge Morrow's speech was vigorous. "We will have a fair election or 200,000 Kentuckians will know the reason why," he said. "We will have it, for we have the flower of the manhood, and honor of the Commonwealth behind us. Time was when the boys in blue and the boys in gray were divided, but in this momentous struggle the boys in blue are arrayed with such noble ex-confederates as Morgan and Jim Clay, and with the blue and the gray together the devil himself can't beat him." It is a grand battle you are to fight in this question of the liberty of white and black."

Gen'l. Taylor then spoke at length and delivered the speech which fully outlines the fight in question.

Attorney General Taylor was the orator of the day, and he made his first speech as a candidate for the chief executive's chair. He did not touch upon national issues, but devoted his entire speech to the questions which are local to Kentucky, and which are stirring this Commonwealth from center to circumference. Gen'l. Taylor's speech suited his crowd.

The people were in no mood to hear tariff or money talk. They wanted to know how the Goebel machine could be wiped out by his supporting one of the other tickets pledged to repeal the Goebel election law, he would withdraw from the race and support that ticket. This sentiment evoked prolonged applause.

The Goebel Dagger.
From the Louisville Dispatch.
Much more appropriate to the Goebel campaign than the Goebel button would be the Goebel dagger.

It has been told in Covington letters to the Dispatch that Goebel has always gone armed with revolver or outlawed knife in his home town.

At Mayfield on Saturday, standing before a crowd of listeners, Goebel, who insists that he is the Democratic nominee for Governor of Kentucky, threw back his coat and exposed protruding from an inside pocket the handle and hilt of a murderous dagger—long enough to touch the bottom of the coat pocket and to show above it.

The law-abiding and peace-loving citizens of this state fail to know of any necessity for a reputable citizen's practice of going armed to kill. They do not see why a lawyer in his home town must be prepared for bloodshed—why a lawmaker should walk the streets equipped to do murder—why a candidate should be fortified to do personal violence.

Commenting on the Goebel-Sandford tragedy on April 10, 1895, the Courier-Journal three days later said:

"It would be profitless to moralize over the Covington tragedy. Such barbarism may be expected as long as lawmakers and professedly law-abiding citizens violate the law by walking the streets prepared to do murder; as long as 'politics' is a mania which incites its victims to personal criminality, personal vituperation and personal violence."

Goebel, the lawmaker, violates the law by "walking the streets prepared to do murder," and with him politics seems to be a mania which incites him to personal criminality, personal vituperation and personal violence."

VICTOR, COLORADO, BURNED.

The Town Swept by a Great Conflagration, Entailing a Loss of Two Million Dollars.

Cripple Creek, Col., Aug. 22.—Fire utterly destroyed the business portion of the city of Victor, causing a loss estimated at $2,000,000. Beginning shortly after noon, the fire raged until evening, consuming everything in its way. It had its origin, it is thought, in the Merchants' cafe, adjoining the Bank of Victor, on the corner of Third street and Victor avenue. A strong wind from the south fanned the flames and in a few minutes all the surrounding houses were afire.

Twenty-Ninth Ready for Service.
Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 22.—Col. Hardin, commanding the Twenty-ninth regiment United States volunteers, which was at Fort McPherson, has reported that his regiment is now ready for service. The regiment will wait orders at Fort McPherson to leave for the Philippines.

Died.
The infant child of J. T. Thompson died Tuesday night. Funeral services were held by Rev. R. M. Wheat at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock followed by interment at Earlinton cemetery.

Some 25,000 cases of leaf tobacco, valued at about $1,000,000, changed hands in Milwaukee this week. The greater proportion of the tobacco was grown in Wisconsin. The American Tobacco Company was the purchaser, and the price paid was somewhere between 10 and 12 cents a pound. Each case contains about 350 pounds. The deal is said to be the largest on record in the tobacco trade.

The lecture and organ recital in the Catholic Church Tuesday night was well attended notwithstanding the warm weather. Both the literary and musical parts of the program were high class. Sold by St. Barnard Drug Store.

CHILLY GRAVES IN THE FROZEN NORTH.

A List of Miners Who Entered the Klondike Sound Region and Met Death from Disease, Accident or Violence—Many Others Who Are Not Named.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Aug. 22.—Ex-Supervisor W. Alston Hlyne, who with a party of Santa Barbara people, have been in the Klondike sound region all winter, has written very discouraging news. His letter, dated July 21 from the Arctic circle, 500 miles inland from Ketchikan sound, gives the following list of miners who entered that region and perished there:

J. L. Onderdunk, Portland, Ore., died at Spring Hill from overwork. E. C. Mead, Summer, Wash. Jessie Lee, Black-leg.

Charles A. Leonard, Cleveland, O. Stony Camp; heart failure.

Sabin Harris, Oakland, Cal., Relly Camp; black-leg.

T. T. Turner, an Francisco, Nugget Creek; dropsy.

F. Snyder, Seattle, Reed river; spinal meningitis.

C. H. Miller, Lawrence, Kas., Ambler city; septic.

H. Gross, Kansas City, Ambler city; septic.

C. H. Miller, Iowa, Miller's Pass; drowned.

A. C. Breed, Buffalo, N. Y., Pick River; black-leg.

Mr. Martin, Santa Rosa, Cal., Nootak river; missing.

H. Howard, Fall River, Mass., Hotham Inlet; drowned.

J. Howard, Fall River, Mass., Hotham Inlet; drowned.

Wilmott, Fall River, Mass., Hotham Inlet; drowned.

John Morris, London, England, Easchot bay; accidentally shot.

Peter Nelson, Fair Haven, Wash., Salawik river; septic.

Mr. Henry Bay City, Mich., Kogotuk river; septic.

J. L. Bernhardt, Seattle, Wash., Pachette bay; drowned.

Martino Borsali, Italian, Italy, Hotham Inlet; septic.

S. F. Muller, San Francisco, Kotzebue camp; drowned.

Many Others Not Named.

This list does not include 30 who were drowned when the Jane Gray was lost. Neither does it include the last reported deaths from drowning of the men who left Hotham Inlet for Capo Nome.

The two Plecking brothers are said to have been shot by Indians whom they ill-treated.

EXCURSION TRAIN WRECKED.

A Misplaced Switch Threw the Train on a Siding and into a Standing Locomotive.

Circleville, O., Aug. 23.—An excursion train on the Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley railroad was wrecked in the edge of this city and five persons were seriously injured and 20 others badly cut and bruised.

Engineer Wm. Ditt, Internally, Wm. Metzlin, baggage master, Mrs. Leo Leiteler, Criderville, O., Kate De Long, Indianapolis, Rev. C. H. Schaefer, Lima, O.

The train was running at a high rate of speed in the outskirts of the city, when a misplaced switch turned it into a siding on which stood a locomotive. Both engines were telescoped and the first two cars badly splintered. The train had three coaches. Two of passengers going to a family reunion at Laurelville, O.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Governor,
W. S. TAYLOR,
Of Butler County.
For Lieutenant Governor,
JOHN MARSHALL,
Of Louisville.
For Secretary of State,
CALEB POWERS,
Of Knox County.
For Attorney General,
CLIFTON J. PRATT,
Of Hopkins County.
For Auditor,
REV. JOHN S. SWEENEY,
Of Bourbon County.
For Treasurer,
WALTER R. DAY,
Of Breathitt County.
For Superintendent of Public Instruction,
JOHN BURKE,
Of Campbell County.
For Commissioner of Agriculture,
CAPT. J. W. THROCKMORTON, Of Fayette County.
For Representative,
BEN T. ROBINSON.

Look out for Republican but-toms. They are coming.

The despair of Kentucky Democrats is pitiful to look upon.

The march of the Republicans to victory was begun in magnific-cent order at London Tuesday.

The world's gold production last year aggregated nearly $300,000, 000. More than double the amount produced in 1892.

HON. JOHN W. YERKES is another distinguished and able Republican speaker who will take the stump in Kentucky.

No Republican speechmaking is yet arranged for this end of the State. The campaign begins in Eastern Kentucky. There will be time enough here. No hurry.

KANSAS will produce this year from 300,000,000 to 400,000,000 bushels of corn worth something like $100,000,000. Not much chance for the calamity howler in that State.

The Auburn Advocate is the new name of the newsy little local paper that has before been known as the Young American. The advocate has taken a degree in age and proposes to grow otherwise.

THE $250,000.00 a year that is sent out by people of the United States to buy tropical fruits, sugar, coffee, etc., will soon be spent almost if not quite wholly in our own colonial possessions with our own people and all be kept "in the family."

HON. CLIFTON J. PRATT, the eminent lawyer and jurist and Western Kentucky candidate for Attorney General was accorded the distinction of opening the Republican campaign at the big London meeting Tuesday. He made the first speech.

The Democrats have been expansionists—on the currency question—and have been proven to be wrong in their theories. Now they are anti-expansionists and the verdict of the American jury is again growing daily in force against this new fallacy.

The Bee approves heartily of the proposed Western Kentucky Press Association. When the newspapers of this section get more of business understanding and system in their business there will be more newspaper "properties" and fewer mortgages.

The worst of the Courier-Journal could say of the Republican campaign opening at London was that "the crowd was not quite as large as the managers had expected." This is complete confirmation of the dispatches reporting 7,000 to 10,000 people and a most enthusiastic gathering.

The present demand for bituminous coal, according to a prominent operator, is 20 per cent.
greater than it was in August, 1898, therefore it is concluded that the price of that fuel must advance above what it is now bringing.

The increased business of the railroads and manufacturers is the stimulating influence.—Bradstreet.

JUDGE J. F. DEMPSEY and A. D.
Sisk, of Madisonville, are home from New York, where they spent nearly two weeks of recreation and sightseeing. The Judge says he did not attend the Democratic conference at Saratoga, but they did see Coney Island and got for the first time a fine bird's eye view of the great American Metropolis.

We know what American victory means. It means not to oppress, not to tread on the necks of the fallen. It means to lift them up, to place them upon their feet and to do all that is in our power to extend comfort, civilization, happiness and prosperity to all mankind. This war has brought under the dominion and protectorate of the Stars and Stripes many millions of our Catholic people, far removed, some of them from the American continent, but we predict for them unhesitatingly that they will make American citizens as loyal, as sturdy and as true as those that are here today.—Father Lavelle in speech introducing President McKinley, at Catholic Summer School Grounds, Champlain, N. Y. August 15.

Will History Repeat Itself?
It seems probable that the Democrats in 1900 are about to repeat their action in 1894, when they declared in national convention that the war policy was a failure and demanded its abandonment. It is recalled that it was many years thereafter before the Democracy secured even a measure of the country's confidence.—

Splendid Relief Work.

The War Department did a magnificent piece of work a few days since toward relieving promptly the terrible destitution of the victims of the hurricane in Porto Rico. A telephone message from Washington instructed the chief of the Commissary Department at New York to buy all the beans and rice that "could get quickly for the Porto Rico sufferers.
Within two hours the government agents had bought for immediate delivery 600,000 pounds of rice and 600,000 quarts of beans and within another hour the stuff was being conveyed to transports for shipping. Aside from being a piece of most efficient work by the War Department the incident illustrates the wonderful extent of the food supply in America's metropolis and the facility with which large orders can be filled.

A Belated Remedy.

Judge Jno. G. B. Hall in his published card says that "victory to the Democratic party in November, as matters are now moving, is beyond all hope," and urges the plan that was first offered by John Young Brown in his speech of acceptance at Lexington—that both tickets withdraw and that another convention be called to nominate a new ticket with "harmony." Judge Hall does not urge this as
Mr. Brown's plan but it is Mr.
Brown's plan, nevertheless, and was offered and urged by him at the anti-Goebel convention—except that Mr. Brown did not suggest the circulating of petitions and has since been reiterated.
Judge Hall may not have heard of the trend of Mr. Brown's Lexington speech, for he puts the proposition as his own and says the "remedy should originate in Hopkins county." This is what Mr.
Brown said in his Lexington speech:

"I have a proposition to make. I make it deliberately. They say vote the ticket. If you do not we will lose the Senator and we will lose Mr. Bryan. Gentlemen, in forty-eight hours you can relieve the situation. Withdraw your fraudulent ticket. Turn the question back to the free Democracy of Kentucky; let them assemble in convention. I will not permit my name to go before that convention. Select a second man, an honest ticket and give us a united Democracy, etc."

The question thus seems to be up to the Goebel men since there is no occasion for anti-Goebel Democrats to join in a petition asking their candidates to do what the head of their ticket proposed and urged and promised to do immediately upon receiving the nomination. Will the Goebel men sign such petition? It is not likely, because every man who did sign such petition would necessarily thereby record himself an anti-Goebel man in asking that candidate to do what John Young Brown has proposed and dared him to do. The Goebel men are for a Goebel victory and an acquiescence to ex-Gov. Brown's plans would read like anything but victory. It is a belated remedy. The formula won't work.

A Vain Attempt.
The last attempt of the labor agitator to interfere with the business of the coal operator, and the steady work, prosperity and contentment of the coal miner in Hopkins, the banner coal mining county of the State of Kentucky, is a circular letter emanating from district president Wood, of the U. M. W., at Central City, under date of August 10, calling on the consumers of coal to boycott the product of Hopkins county mines.

Having failed at every point to gain a footing in Hopkins county from which they could hope to get control of the business of the miner and the operator and break up satisfactory business and friendly relations that have grown for decades between employer and employee, the salaried walking delegate now resorts to the last effort of the organizer and enlists that which, when it can be given any force, brings about the most lawless, tyrannical, anarchistic conditions—the boycott. It is the last effort of losing and desperate leaders of men. What the boycott has been fully and correctly portrayed during the recent street car strike in Cleveland when the strike leaders proclaimed a boycott which attempted to drive those not in sympathy with the movement of food to sustain life and even went so far as to try to prevent a physician from attending the sick bed of a dying child whose offense was that its father was a non-union motorman.

"This is the boycott." Very fortunately, however, the attempted boycott of Hopkins county coal will be without force or effect. The effect, if any, will rather be to more thoroughly advertise the independence and freedom of the miners and the mines of Hopkins County from labor disturbances, and the consequent steady work, contentment and satisfactory degree of prosperity which has not blest those communities dominated by the agitator with the periodical strike for any trivial cause and the resultant loss to labor and capital and the general public.

The request is made that:
"The buyers and consumers of coal for railroads, steamboats, manufacturing purposes and for public institutions and public buildings—as well as for domestic use—refuse to purchase or consume Hopkins county coal until fair conditions and living wages are granted to the miners of Hopkins county."

Inasmuch as this movement is inaugurated without the endorsement or approval or sympathy of the Hopkins county miner, but is directed against his welfare and designed to deprive him of the right and opportunity to earn a living the expressed solicitude for Hopkins County miners reads like a strange story.

CHICKENS ARE COMING

BACK TO THE ROOST.

No Support for Goebel by the Home Papers.

From the Williamsburg Times.

Some of Goebel's chickens, which he helped hatch, in his little Kentucky bull pen, are coming home to roost. The Extra, a Covington democratic paper which, for two years past, has been singing out of the Goebel hymnal, in its last Saturday's issue, jerked the Goebel ticket, which it had been supporting, from the editorial column and dumped it into the slop barrel. This paper two years ago, brought out Judge Tarvin and William J. Bryan as the free silver possibilities in the campaign of 1900. It boosted the silver cause and still supports Bryan and Tarvin, but of the Goebel ticket it says:
"We have concluded to pursue such a course in the forthcoming political mix-up as our judgment dictates, and, having concluded to take that course, we remove from our masthead the state ticket nominated at Louisville. It is a well-known fact that the Extra is the only paper published in Covington that has, since the recent convention, honored the ticket nominated by said convention."

There are three democratic daily and two weekly papers published in Covington and if the statement of the editor is to be relied upon, that he was the only paper to carry the Goebel Louisville ticket, then there certainly is a big screw loose in his own home and it looks as if his reign of slugging and bulldozing in that community at least has soured on the stomach of the press and the people. It further indicates a swiftly growing tendency on the part of democrats who want to throw off a mighty unpleasant yoke.

POLITICAL POINTS.

An invitation has been received by Gov. Bradley from Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, requesting him to be present at the laying of the corner-stone of the new Government building to be erected in that city. The ceremony is to take place in October with President McKinley as the chief figure.

If that was really an Ellen Elm convention, the dear old sister is to be congratulated on the superb company she has succeeded in getting into.

freight to the "regular" papers for publication.

the people than to force a bad law through the legislature, or to steal a convention by directing the movements of its chairman.—Pa-

One line of the speech will become

ONE FLAG--ONE PEOPLE.

"We differ in our political and religious beliefs, but we are united for country. Loyalty to the Government is our national creed. We follow—all of us—one flag. It symbolizes our purposes, our aspirations; it represents what we believe and what we mean to maintain, and wherever it floats, it is the flag of the free and the hope of the oppressed, and wherever it is assailed, at any sacrifice it will be carried to a triumphant peace." Rebellion may delay, but it can never defeat its blessed mission of liberty and humanity.—President McKinley at Catholic Summer School Grounds, Champlain, N. Y., August 15.

a second man, an honest ticket and give us a united Democracy, etc."

The question thus seems to be up to the Goebel men since there is no occasion for anti-Goebel
Democrats to join in a petition asking their candidates to do what
the head of their ticket proposed
and urged and promised to do immediately upon receiving the nomination. Will the Goebel men sign such petition? It is not likely, because every man who did
sign such petition would necessarily thereby record himself an anti-Goebel man in asking that candidate to do what John Young Brown has proposed and dared
him to do. The Goebel men are
for a Goebel victory and an acquiescence to ex-Gov. Brown's plans would read like anything but victory. It is a belated remedy. The formula won't work.

NEGRO TOWN.

Hobson City, Ala., will be incorporated as an exclusively negro town with a population of 400, all negroes, containing 100 houses, three churches, a school house, several stores and no saloons.

There are numerous villages in the South where all the inhabitants are negroes but it is claimed in the dispatches that this is the first negro town in the world.

The experiment hinges on the question of the negroes' ability to govern his own people."

LOCAL NEWS.

Jno. T. Barnett went to Sebree Saturday for a few day's rest.

The Princeton fair will be held Sept. 20, continuing four days.

Miss Edith Waller, of Hopkinsville, visited the family of Dr. E. A. Chatton, this week.

Mrs. Pauline Jones still has her arm in a sling and otherwise feels the effect of her recent fall.

Miss Bettie Victory will return to St. Vincent's Academy within a few days to resume her studies.

Miss Emma Wilson left last Friday for Webster County, where she will visit relatives and friends.

Mr. O. S. Bonham, who has been visiting his parents at Concord, Tenn., returned Friday night.

Mrs. William Wendel, who was quite ill recently has greatly recovered and the solicitude of her many friends is changed to joy. She is at home again.

Hayrides and rowing parties grow with the fullness of the big round moon—much cooler and less searching of ray than the burning sun of these dog (gones) days of August.

The tobacco worm has made its work felt of late and the farmers have had their fill of fighting these pests. The crop will be considerably damaged locally but there will be enough to smoke and "chaw."

The moonlight nights are ideal for rowing parties on Loch Mary as not a few who have private boat privileges have discovered. The whole flotilla was out Monday evening—without mentioning any names.

Rev. Jno. M. Crowe stopped in Earlinton a part of Saturday enroute from Sturgis to Russellville where he will preach at Parson's Grove Camp Meeting. Karl Taylor was with him and remained over Sunday.

Prof. E. B. Bourland, of the Earlinton Public School, is in Hopkinsville again after some weeks of work in institutes in other counties. The time draws near when the shooting of young ideas must begin.

Will Brancham has bought of Mrs. Ida Walker the vacant lot on east Main street, between the residences of Mrs. Walker and John Rule, for a consideration of $600. He has an excellent building lot in a choice locality and expects to erect a nice cottage in the spring.

Miss Mary White, of Landisdown, Pa., sister of Howard White, mining engineer for the St. Bernard Coal Co., is visiting him this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. B. Atkinson. The latter are not at home yet but, with Mrs. Paul M. Moore and sons, are expected home from their trip to the east in a few days.

The new postoffice building is nearing completion, but there are several things to do before it will be ready for occupancy. Postmaster Robinson's health is still poor and he is spending some time at St. Charles where he can keep comfortable and yet be near enough to Dawson Springs to get the benefit of the water without coming in contact with the crowd at that popular watering place.

On last Monday evening quite a jolly party of young folks, with Mr. W. O. Toy and wife as chaperones enjoyed a hayride, which lasted from 8 to 11 o'clock. Delightful music was furnished by Misses Sallie McGrath and Lizzie Sullivan on guitar and mandolin, which lent enchantment to the evening's pleasure. In their rounds they took in the city of Madisonville, and returning gave a portion of Earlinton a serenade.

School Time Coming.
The time is near when our schools begin their nine months of free instruction by a corps of competent teachers for the benefit of all the children of Earlinton. Times have been and are good and parents should arrange to put all children into the schools. We do not all appreciate the opportunity offered in the way of free schools but the Earlinton people do appreciate the fact that they have good school advantages for a longer period each year than any other town in the county and the attendance is usually very fair. We should all make an effort to fill the school this year and give our children these advantages while they are of proper age and the opportunities last.

The corps of teachers is the same this year as last, except that Miss Laura Ligon is not here and Miss Leila Deane takes her place.

The teachers are, Mrs. Ida E. Walker, principal, Mr. E. B. Bourland, Misses Minnie Bourland and Leila Deane.

We hope to have a communication in our next issue from "Parson Magister," whose Brix pen has been idle since school closed.

Wonderful Discovery.

LUNDS, ALA., April 15, 1898.
Dear Spencer Medicine Co.:—
Your Sirs—We have been troubled with liver and stomach complaint. I had no appetite and my general health was very bad. I took medicine from four different doctors and they failed to do me any good. I got no relief until I began to use your valuable Nubian Tea. I used about two cups a day and in a few days I was much better. I have not used it since and now all that the medicine I ever took, I have gained thirty-five pounds in weight and my health is very good. I can sleep soundly and my appetite is excellent. I can recommend Planter's Nubian Tea to the world as being a God-send to any community. Any one who doubts this statement can write. OSCAR BAXTER.

They Caught 'Em.

Bryan Hopper, the beat-'em-all angler and Paul M. Moore arose with the song of an intermittent alarm clock Tuesday morning at four o'clock and went to search for the fish that swim but do not always bite in Loch Mary. "The patient fisher took his silent stand"—in the stern and Moore played screw propeller. A two-pound bass—not "fisherman's weight"—and the largest perch that has been hooked in those waters were among the catch. An hour's sport provided breakfast for several and almost made a convert to the virtue of early rising.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had a bad case of whooping cough. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Cure was the highest remedy and I had and sent and got one bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. I had known about it and I could have given a great deal of information and my little daughter much suffering. Yours truly, Mrs. GEORGE P. BURGESS, Liberty, R. I. For sale by the St. Bernard Drugstore, Earlinton; Ben T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; George King, St. Charles.

Died.

Hazel, the little daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lane, died at their home in Earlinton Sunday evening, August 20, 1899, about 9 o'clock. This little one, whose loving disposition and bright, sprightly ways endeared her to many, was only two years and seven months old but the snapping of her life cord has brought deep sorrow to more hearts than mother and father and brother and sister. The loss is a severe one to the bereaved parents and the sympathy of The Bee is extended with that of the many friends of the family.

HECLA MINES SOLD

Purchased by St. Bernard Coal Company.

New Management is in Charge.

The sensation in local mining circles the past week was the acquisition by the St. Bernard Coal Company of the Hecla coal mine. For once it must be admitted by the majority of the people here that they had no hint that negotiations were pending for transfer of the mines. Even the man who is always ready to say, "I told you so," has not been found, so it can be seen that even at this age some things can be accomplished by business men without the public being made aware.

The mine is adjacent to the St. Bernard property on more than one side and its acquirement gives that company access to coal land from which they were before separated as to mining and shipping facilities.

The terms of the purchase include the whole property, even the diary, which is being operated as usual. What change of plan may be made as to the dairy cannot now be said.

Foreman William Day, of No. 9, has been busily systematizing things at and in the mines under the new management. "Civilized Engineer" White, and "Half Civilized Engineer" Finley have turn-about taken many shifts at the problem of adding more coal to the daily product and Farm Superintendent Corey has been cutting and grinding corn for the cattle, hauling timber etc. In fact, the line of battle has been transferred to the Hecla and with the expansion idea in mind it has almost unprecedented sale for a book of that character.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Ausie Springer, of 1122 Howard st., Philadelphia, over the discovery of "King's New Discovery" for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden.

All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Nubian Tea that it is the panacea.

She is well again and is now sleeping soundly.

The editor of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is one man dead disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity.

Acquires additional strength.

It is a good and safe medicine.

Act directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing the same.

The patient will have no such faith in its curative powers, than in the two great remedies, you will be sure to be satisfied.

Exploration of South America.

One of the most interesting publications of the winter will be a history of Sir Martin Conway's expedition to South America. Mr. Conway is well known as one of the foremost mountain-climbers in the world, and his book will contain descriptions of his ascents of many of the Andes' most inaccessible peaks. Mr. Conway's work will not be confined to his activities as a mountain-climber; he takes also a keen interest in political and commercial problems.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, occurred in the following case of a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated pale continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. The fourth physician added trying to bleed him and to my joy, and to amaze the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim. None soots, guaranteed to be safe.

Spilling Their Politics.

From the New York Tribune.

What is the matter with the anti-expansionists? Are the bottes of their wrath all emptied? They fail to show due indignation over General Otis's attempt to interfere with home politics by sending word that he has captured insurgent dispatches predicting victory for McKinley through the overthrow of Garfield by his Lafayettes in this country. They are strangely submissive under the outrage.

It is noticeable fact that none of the rip-roaring, hurly-burly, halloo-hoo "playboys" for the Goebel hallucination are pushing their way enthusiastically toward Lexington.
